

Artist Statement:

Christmas has always been my favorite holiday not just because I got to spend time with my family, but because I got to relive old memories with cousins and distant relatives, something I won't be able to accomplish this year. Therefore, in a new environment, I wanted to capture what Christmas felt like to a few individuals in Central City, PA. These emotions were portrayed in contrast to my predicted mood during this favorite holiday as I won't be able to keep the old family tradition and would have to create new ones.

Project:

Not so Merry Christmas by Seyram Agbotey

